

Personal Information

Full name	Hiromasa Tanaka
Current position	Assistant professor
Organization	Nagoya University
Country	Japan

Short BiographyCareer:

04/2014-present

Assistant Professor in Institute of Innovation for Future Society, Nagoya University

10/2011-03/2014

Postdoctoral Researcher in Plasma Nanotechnology Research Center, Nagoya University

09/2010-09/2011

Postdoctoral Researcher in Donnelly Center for Cellular and Biomolecular Research, University of Toronto

04/2009-06/2010

Assistant Specialist in Department of Developmental & Cell Biology,
Center for Complex Biological Systems, University of California, Irvine

04/2004-03/2009

Postdoctoral Researcher in Department of Developmental & Cell Biology,
Center for Complex Biological Systems, University of California, IrvineEducation:

04/01/2001-03/31/2004

Department of Physics, School of Science, The University of Tokyo

Awarded the degree of Ph.D. of science for a thesis entitled "Analysis of a novel gene, formin3 which is implicated in tracheal formation in Drosophila."

Work supervised by Assistant Professor Akinao Nose.

04/01/1999-03/31/2001

Department of Physics, School of Science, The University of Tokyo

Awarded the degree of M.S. of science for a thesis entitled "Analysis of a novel formin homology protein implicated in axon patterning in Drosophila."

Work supervised by Assistant Professor Akinao Nose.

04/01/1995-03/31/1999

Department of Physics, School of Science, The University of Tokyo

Awarded the degree of B.S. of science.

Honors and Awards:

Plasma Science Award "Analysis of the intracellular molecular mechanisms of plasma-activated medium mediated cell death in glioma brain tumor cells"

11th Asia-Pacific Conference on Plasma Science and Technology

25th Symposium on Plasma Science for Materials, Kyoto, Japan, Oct. 2-5, 2012
