

Personal Information

Full name	Katharina Franke
Current position	Professor
Organization	Freie Universität Berlin
Country	Germany

Short Biography

Katharina Franke obtained her Master's degree from PennState University, and her PhD from Freie Universität Berlin. After postdoctoral stays at Ecole Polytechnique Federale de Lausanne and Freie Universität Berlin, she became a junior professor and later on a professor for experimental physics at Freie Universität Berlin, Germany. Her group studies physical and chemical properties of single molecules and nanostructures at surfaces by scanning tunneling microscopy and atomic force microscopy at low temperatures.